

NIP-TUCK TRAUMAS

Jordan says her nipple procedure was like 'hemming a piece of material'

OH!

KATIE PRICE

British celeb Katie Price, aka Jordan, has graphically described her recent nipple-reduction surgery.

"They cut round the nipple," she explains, "and tuck the excess skin underneath, like you're hemming a piece of material."

But while that sounds gruesome enough, it seems Jordan, 29, now wants the world to have a good look at her new lopsided nipples - scars and all.

TOO RUDE!

DEMI MOORE

Demi looks amazing for a 45-year-old, but it's not just her marriage to toy boy Ashton Kutcher, 30, that's keeping her in shape, with the actress famously undergoing a $1 million plastic-surgery overhaul.

But while her face is taut, Demi's legs aren't quite as smooth. Heading out recently in a minidress, the star shows off a lumpy texture across the skin on her thighs. The hollow area above Demi's knee is said to be a common sign of botched liposuction.

Not all the work Demi has had done has been successful
