

HAYLIE DUFF

BEFORE

→ Living in the shadow of her younger but more famous sister Hilary has been tough for Haylie, 24. Perhaps that's why she's given in to Hollywood pressure and altered her look so dramatically.

While Hilary has also gone blonder, it's the changes to her face that have really got people talking. It was first noticed that her chin and nose looked different in May, and Dr Kohout confirms those suspicions.

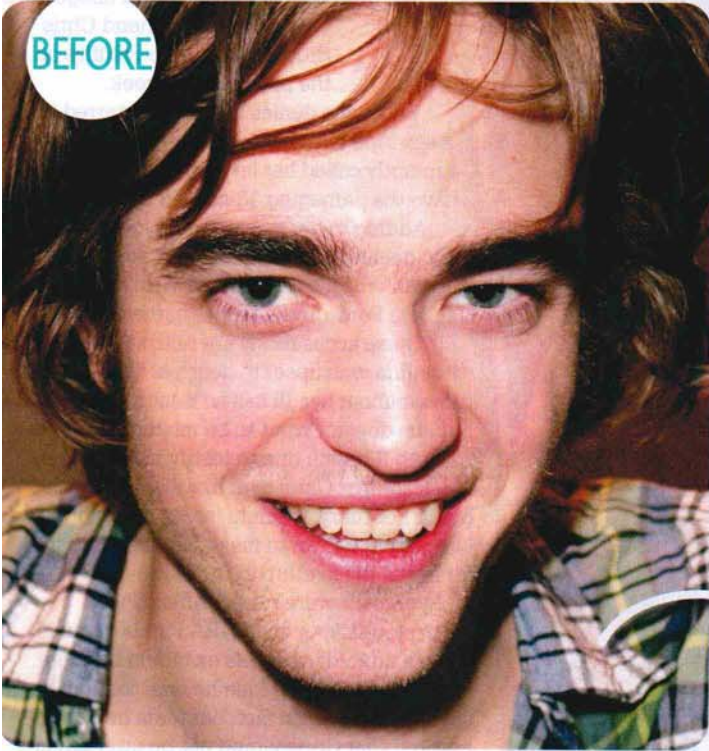

"The nose has a lower profile through the bridge and the tip has been refined," he says. "I think Haylie has also had a chin implant – her chin point now projects well forward of her lips, something she has not had before."

ROBERT PATTINSON

→ The jury's still out as to whether the Twilight hunk has had any work done, but there are whispers he might have had a nose job, cheek implants and jaw refining to make him look more masculine.

The 23-year-old actor has added to the speculation by saying, "When I first started, I was quite tall and looked like a girl."

But Dr Zacharia thinks Robert's simply settled into his looks. "He may have had reshaping done to his nose, as it appears slimmer," he says. "However, I don't think he's had a chin or jaw implant."
