CELEBRITY COSMETIC SURGERY SUCCESSES

With a gentle nip and tuck, some stars shine after plastic surgery while others end up slaves to the scalpel. Plastic surgeon Dr Mark Kohout gives his expert opinion

SHARON OSBOURNE WOW!

● 'She's had an eye lift - the space between the eyelash and the lid indicates this. Her hairstyle also softens the look,' Dr Kohout says. 'Given that Sharon, 52, has had stomach surgery to lose weight, battled colon cancer and had chemotherapy she's looking good!'

CHER WOW!

● Cher is a big fan of cosmetic surgery. 'Whatever she's had done she looks great for 58,' Dr Kohout says. 'I suspect she's had her lips augmented, plus a brow lift and a nose job. She has definitely turned back time, but she needs to stop now because she's getting that "operated-on" look.'

DEMI MOORE WOW!

● Demi reportedly spent hundreds of thousands on her body for her role in Charlie's Angels: Full Throttle last year. She's said to have had breast implants, liposuction and botox and collagen injections. But Dr Kohout says any face work is minimal. 'She's probably had a little bit of lip work and some botox - but no major facelifts I don't think.'

MADONNA WOW!

● 'She has quite a wrinkle-free face and perhaps some botox around the eyes, but there's no evidence of anything else,' Dr Kohout adds. 'Her diastema [gap in her teeth] is quite alluring. The soft, layered hairstyle and colour takes years off her age.'

JOAN COLLINS WOW!

● She has unique ideas on health and beauty, but that doesn't stop her from going under the knife. 'Her eyebrows are plucked unusually far apart which opens up the eyes and makes the eyebrows look higher. She's also possibly had a facelift. If you compare the skin on her face - which looks very fresh - to the skin on her décolletage, which is quite sun-damaged, you could also conclude she's had some kind of skin peel or laser work on the skin on her face to get that young, dewy-skinned look,' Dr Kohout says.

KATE BECKINSALE

● 'Her face looks fantastic - she's possibly had a peel or else has naturally beautiful skin. But she definitely has very high, very round breasts which is usually a telltale sign of implants,' Dr Kohout says. 'I doubt she's had a lot of face work. The hair colour change has made a big difference and she may have had some teeth whitening. Though it may just be a subtle touch-up of the photograph,' Dr Kohout adds. Despite many fans speculating she's had a boob job, Kate denies it categorically, saying she just wears 'very helpful underwear'.

WOW!

THEN!

ANNA NICOLE SMITH WOW!

● The blonde bombshell looks a million dollars after shedding excess kilos and having a boob reduction. 'It's possible she's had a tummy tuck and liposuction to get rid of fat and excess skin,' Dr Kohout says. The question is, with liposuction, once the fat is gone, does it come back? 'The short answer is no - fat cells are gone for good, but those left expand if you don't watch your diet and you'll gain weight.'

SHARON STONE

At 46, and despite her angry denials of a facelift, Tinseltown talk is that Sharon has undergone a revolutionary 'vertical' facelift that involves making small incisions over the hairline and in the mouth to achieve a more natural look with no telltale scarring. There's also less than a week's recovery time.

'She looks absolutely fantastic and I think it's highly likely she has had work done. Probably some botox around the eyes and forehead,' Dr Kohout says.

'I'd also say she's had some kind of facelift and lower eyelid surgery as the bags she once had are no longer evident. The sagginess around her neck has also disappeared which further indicates a facelift of some kind,' he says.

KERRI-ANNE KENNERLEY

WOW!

'She looks fantastic. She's probably had some eye work – maybe an eye lift, a brow lift or both,' Dr Kohout says. 'The work is very subtle. And the lips suggest some kind of filler.' He adds: 'As we age, the skin around the eyes wrinkles, while facial expressions, smoking and sun exposure all contribute to droopy lids. Eyelid surgery, or blepharoplasty, will remove excess fat or skin around the eyes. A brow lift tightens skin from the eyebrows upwards, as opposed to a facelift which tightens from the eyes down.'

NICOLE KIDMAN

Judging by the absence of frown lines on Nicole's face in her recent movie Cold Mountain, in which she plays an educated woman who falls in love with a farm boy, Nicole has probably had some botox work. 'There's no corrugation across the eyes at all,' Dr Kohout agrees. 'So she's possibly had botox work there – it's unusual for anyone in their mid-30s to have no lines on their forehead whatsoever,' he says.

IVANA & IVANKA TRUMP

Mother and daughter team Ivana and Ivanka Trump are looking more and more alike as the years go on. 'Ivanka looks great but I think in the after photograph she's obviously just older and has shed her baby fat,' Dr Kohout says.

Ivana is reported to have had some eye work, but Dr Kohout says her lips are probably more noticeable. 'Her lips look quite outrageous and like they've had a fair bit of plumping,' he says.

WOW!

HILLARY & CHELSEA CLINTON

Doctors overseas have speculated that Chelsea has had an eye lift, the tip of her nose reduced and a chin implant. Dr Kohout is not as quick to jump to conclusions. 'It's quite possible just weight loss as she ages.' And Hillary strongly denies having had any plastic surgery and Dr Kohout says she may have a minimal amount of botox, if at all. 'I certainly can't see the hallmarks of any major surgery.'

LIZ HURLEY

WOW!

JESSICA LANGE

WOW!

'There's something that looks slightly unnatural with her eyebrows – but it's actually hard to pinpoint what she's had done. She's possibly had a nose job as the shape of her nose looks different in the two photos. There's also possibly been some lower eyelid surgery which gives that slanted almost Asian eye appearance and I'm not sure it suits her face.'

CELEBRITY COSMETIC SURGERY DISASTERS

MELANIE GRIFFITH

● Melanie, 47, has attracted much attention for her obsession with plastic surgery. She was reportedly warned by hubby Antonio Banderas to end her relationship with the scalpel to save the couple's rocky relationship. "She's gone crazy with lip work and she's almost definitely had a brow lift," Dr Kohout says.

MICHAEL JACKSON

● "He should have stopped long ago - in fact he never should have started," Dr Kohout says. "He was really good looking before. He's had surgery to his lips and his nose and a big chin implant." Top US plastic surgeon Dr Werner Mangs said he had to use some of the singer's ear to repair his nose!

DANNII MINOGUE

● "She's definitely had her breasts done, possible cheek implants and it appears multiple nose jobs, leaving it pinched and narrow. The problem with removing too much cartilage is that it can make it hard to breathe. I think it's time for Dannii to consider giving the scalpel away," Dr Kohout says.

LESLIE ASH

● The British small screen star turned into a laughing stock when she plumped up her lips with collagen and earned the nickname 'trout pout'. When she turned 40, she had botox and a boob job.

JANE FONDA

● The beauty who turned heads in Barbarella now turns heads for another reason - her baggy jowls. "Her face skin is smoother than her jowls. Ideally both procedures should be done together."

MICKEY ROURKE

● The changing face of the once sexy 9½ Weeks star is more frightening than sexy now. "It looks as though he's had a few facelifts and a brow lift, although he looks quite unnatural."

AMANDA LEPORE

● Amanda appears to have had a canthopexy - where the corner of the eye is repositioned to give the appearance of slanty eyes. It just doesn't look natural on a Caucasian though. "Her lips also jump off the page and they have definitely been augmented in some way. They dominate the whole lower part of her face. "Amanda also has a classic triangle tip on the end of her nose, suggesting a nose job. "The boobs are way too much - she should have stopped long ago."

JORDAN

● "She's possibly had cheek implants and some kind of filler in her lips. But it's the formidable FF cup that may pose the biggest problems for Jordan," Dr Kohout says. "They were designed to attract attention - and they will. The downside is that just like naturally large breasts, they can sag and cause back and neck pain."
